Manitoba Government to Complete R. R. Railway--Northern Pacific to Operate it.

Children Murdered in England for the Paltry Insurance Upon their Lives.

THE RED RIVER RAILWAY.

Winnipeg, July 17—It is reported that the Government and Northern Pacific Railway Company have entered into an agreement by which it is understood that the Government shall complete the Red River Valley Railway to Winnipeg and then hand it over to the Northern Pacific to equip and operate, the Northern Pacific paying interest to provide for the amount expended up to the time of completion. Then the Northern Pacific undertakes to build, equip and operate the Portage link this year and enter into an agreement to extend the system in Brandon next year, and also to build a branch line south of Souris county.

CABLE NEWS.

PREMIUM TO COMMIT MURDER.

London, July 17—Rev. Mr. Waugh testified before the Poor Relief Committee of the House of Lords last night that thousands of children were starved or otherwise murdered in England every winter in order to obtain a paltry amount of insurance on their lives. He said the system of insuring children's lives was simply offering a premium to murder.

A NOTABLE COMMISSION OF INQUIRY.

The commission to inquire into the Times' charge will probably consist of Lord Branwell, Lord Justice of Appeal; Sir Henry Hawkins, Alfred Wills, Lord High Justices of the Queen's Bench, and Lord Farrerherschell, Lord Chancellor of the Queen's Bench, with Samuel Whittbread, member of Parliament for Bedford, and Sir John Mowbray, member of Parliament for the University of Oxford.

A SEMI-OFFICIAL DENIAL.

The St. James Gazette says: It is semi-officially stated that the report published in the Pall Mall Gazette to the effect that Dowager Empress Victoria is virtually under arrest at Potsdam is an abominable fiction.

OUR VISITORS.

The Tourist Travel of the Season Large and Ever Growing.

Tourist travel has on the whole been probably more brisk this year than ever before. The number which has passed through Victoria en route to Alaska has been considerably greater than before, while the arrivals from the eastern part of the Dominion over the Canadian Pacific Railway is constantly on the increase. A pleasing feature about the travel is that very many of the visitors are from the neighboring cities in Oregon and Washington Territory. It is a gratifying thing not only for the prosperity they bring but for the sake of drawing closer those ties of friendship that exist between us to see our neighbors come over yearly and renew their acquaintanceship. Our people, whenever opportunity offers, should make an effort to return the call. Large cities are rapidly growing up on the Sound and as they grow and multiply in population so will the number of our summer visitors increase. We are part of the same system. What gives life to them must also give vitality to us. In mentioning those sojourning among us our good friends from Vancouver must not be forgotten. A number of the well-to-do citizens of the terminal city are making it part of their programme to spend a week or two in the city of Victoria or at least to send down their families for a holiday here. It is then very easy after all to account for the large number of strangers that are daily to be seen in the city. Large communities are growing up around us the people of which congregate in Victoria in summer just as naturally as the bees do at the clover patch. The great inland towns are in a continual swelter just now, the land is red hot, the air like that form a furnace, and those who are able, fly to the cool of the ocean and make haste to do so. The Atlantic coast watering places are growing old and the newer, brighter, more healthful and more enchanting ones of the Pacific are being sought for. Among them Victoria comes first and it behooves her people to realize wherein their bread lies, to understand that in che good looks of their city is a mine of wealth, and endeavor, by providing plenty of good hotels and, above all, good drainage, to make the place still more attractive than it is. The only thing that detracts from the situation at present is the stench found in some parts of the city from our drains.

Our Coal and Lumber.

During the past week the following shipments of coal and lumber were made:—

From Nanaimo—British ship Lancaster Castle, Thorpe, 3,280 tons of coal, value $18,040, to San Pedro; American ship Wilna, Porter, 2,350 tons coal, value $8,525, to San Francisco; American ship John A. Briggs, Balch, 3,300 tons coal, value $18,150, to San Francisco; American ship C. J. Sargent, Morse, 2,650 tons coal, value $14,575, to San Francisco; steamer Bertha, 360 tons coal, value $1,980.

From Chemainus—Bolivian bark Don Carlos, Jacobson, 500,000 feet lumber, value $6,500, to Sydney.

From Vancouver—American steamer Port Adelaide, West, 600 tons freight, 528 Chinese, $10,000, to San Francisco; American bark Batavia, Kelly, 1,400 tons coal, value $20,000, to China; Norwegian bark Zambesi, Tiddy, 1,650 tons flour, 1,400 tons coal, value $10,000 to China.

From Moodyville—German ship Helios, Niephar, 600,000 feet lumber, value $10,400, to Melbourne.

R. M. Bruce's Funeral.

We are requested to state that the remains of the late R. M. Bruce will not be sent home. His former employer, Mr. W. Whittaker, will bear the expense of giving the remains a decent funeral, and the body will be interred in Ross Bay cemetery to-morrow morning. The funeral will take place from Mr. Storey's rooms, Government street.

A GHASTLY DISCOVERY.

The Body of a Woman Found in a Trunk Near Seattle.

A trunk was discovered in the timber about a mile west of Seattle on Saturday containing the dead body of a female. The stench was so horrible that the discoverers could not approach within several feet of the trunk. They secured a long pole and began to investigate the contents. They first pulled out a table cloth, covered with dark colored stains, which the men believed were blood. Next came a neat lawn dress, with ruffled edges and also covered with stains. Several other articles of feminine wearing apparel were brought out with the pole. They were all of good material and all bore heavy dark stains. The men hesitated after removing the clothing, for there was then exposed to sight a thin blue blanket, which, judging from the outlines, evidently enshrouded a human form. Finally the pole was twisted around one corner of the blanket and it was raised a little. A human foot of delicate and evidently feminine mould was exposed to view. The blanket was raised to the knee and the belief of the men was confirmed. The limbs were shapely and evidently a woman's. The police were informed of the discovery at once. Mr. Rae who made it is positive the form was that of a white woman, judging from the shapely contour of the limbs and feet, and the color of the portions exposed to view. The body was nude and had evidently been pressed into the trunk by force. The limbs were doubled up and the head was, judging from the outline of the blanket, pressed forward onto the breast. He was also positive that the heavy stains on the clothing were caused by blood. While they were dark in color, Mr. Rae did not think they were more so than would be natural from blood stains of several weeks ago.

PERSONAL.

John T Fee returned from the mainland last evening.

Edgar Marvin is the guest of Chief Josiah Collins, at Seattle.

W N Bole, M P P, arrived on the steamer Rithet last night.

Mr I J Hayden, of Vancouver, is in the city, and at the Clarence.

Col R J Stevens, U S Consul, returned on the Alaskan last evening.

Lewis Morrison and company arrived last evening, and are at the Driard.

Mrs H P Bell, of Winnipeg, is paying a visit to Mrs W Heathorn, at Rock Bay.

Judge O'Rielly, Indian Commissioner, returned from England on Sunday evening.

Mrs E L Terry and daughter, of Seattle, arrived on Saturday, and will spend a month in this city.

Capt Fletcher, P O Inspector, was a passenger from the mainland on the steamer Rithet last night.

The Hon Robert Dunsmuir went up the Island Railway this morning, and will be absent for a day or two.

Alderman Braden is progressing favorably. The doctor thinks he will be able to leave the hospital by the end of the week.

Inspector Gill and Deputy Collector George Williams, of the Inland Revenue Department, left for the mainland this morning.

Col McGregor, the well-known, returned home to New Westminster this morning. The Columbian was in error; he returned alone.

J G Turnbull, the "Jay Gould of Australia," has recently been spending a few days in Philadelphia. He has a fortune of £10,000,000, which he made out of railroads, and the pioneer railroad in that country was built by him.

Alderman A M Herring, Chairman of the Finance Committee, New Westminster, arrived on the steamer Alaskan yesterday from Seattle. Mr. Herring reports both Tacoma and Seattle overboomed. In the latter place hundreds of men and women are idle, cannot find employment and are destitute. Mr. Herring came across many familiar B C faces dead broke, and anxious to return. He assisted many of them to get back. As an instance of the rapid rise in real estate in Seattle in consequence of the boom, lots that Mr H bought there seven years ago for $100 each he sold last week for $2,000 each; also lots further out, bought at the same time for $65, he realized $700 and $800 for. The height of the boom is nearly reached. He says the most solid town and most permanent one will be New Tacoma, where he purchased several good pieces of property on Pacific Avenue. Mr Herring is the leading druggist of the mainland, having accumulated a competency in that business. He also owns Herring's Opera House at New Westminster, one of the largest in the country, seating 1,200 persons, and having some handsome scenery. The drop curtain alone cost $900. He is accompanied by his wife and family, and will return to New Westminster next Friday.

Donald Truths

Four reliable prospectors came to Donald Friday and reported that they had struck $6-a-day diggings within 20 miles of the town.

The thermometer registered 96 in the shade at Revelstoke Monday, and 108 at Canmore on Tuesday.

William Glover has eight or ten men at work on his placer claim, Big Bend, and is reported doing well. On a recent trip down to Revelstoke he disposed of $1,200 in dust to Fred. Hume, and now has as much more cleaned up. He pays his men $4 a day, and every week at that. Mr. Gray has also about the same number of men at work, and is doing well. The flume on Kerns Creek went out in a recent freshet.

Rev. A. H. Cameron, who for nearly 10 years was the Presbyterian minister at the front on C. P. R. construction work, left Donald on Friday, intending to make Ontario his future home. He will stop for awhile in Manitoba.

A Beautiful Picture.

An oil painting of the harbor looking towards the outer wharf from the Indian reserve, is on exhibition in Mr. J. Sommers' store. It was painted by Mr. T. Bamford, an amateur artist of considerable note. The picture is a very creditable production—undoubtedly the best that has come from Mr. Bamford's brush. The entrance to the harbor, the outer wharf, and the Olympians in the distance, with a beautiful afternoon effect pervading the whole, make a picture that would be an ornament to any parlor in the city. Our citizens can assist and encourage art in our midst by purchasing the productions of our local artists, for the surest stimulants of an artist, as to every other person, is the purchase of his work.

THE TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

San Francisco, July 17—This morning's trains brought teachers from Wisconsin, Kansas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, and the delegation of 250 from New England states to attend the national educational convention, the first session of which will be held this morning. The scene at the fences was one of animation. The educators attracted a great amount of attraction from the large crowd that were present and were subject to much comment. The members reception committee escorted them to different headquarters where after registering they proceeded to their hotels. The southern delegation comprising 125 teachers from Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina arrived last night and were enthusiastic over the reception tendered them. They have been greatly impressed with what they have seen west.

ARRIVALS AND DEPARTURES.

San Francisco, July 17. — Arrived — steamer Mexico, Victoria. Sailed — steamer Arcata, Coos Bay; ships Rosie Welt, and Dashing Wave, Port Townsend.

A YOUTHFUL MEXICAN MURDERER.

Yuma, Ariz., July 17.—The coroner has held an inquest in the case of George Stevenson, station agent and operator at Glamis, who was murdered and robbed on Saturday by Pedro Yanes, a fifteen year old Mexican. Yanes was charged with murder in the first degree.

SHOT WHILE ENTERING A HOUSE.

Mexico, Mo., July 17. — Prosecuting Attorney W. S. Moseby was shot and instantly killed at midnight last night by Mark Stevenson, an old and respected citizen. Stevenson is in jail. Moseby was in the act of entering Stevenson's house by stealth when he was shot. He was there, it is said, for an immoral purpose. Moseby, who was very popular here, leaves a young and cultured wife.

FULLER TO BE CHIEF JUSTICE.

Washington, July 17—It is expected the Senate will take final action on the nomination of Melville W. Fuller to be Chief Justice to-day.

$1,125,000 FIRE.

New Orleans, July 17—A lamp falling upon a can of oil caused the entire destruction of the Brush Electric Light Co.'s works early this morning. Loss $1,125,000.

SMALL-POX IN BUFFALO.

Buffalo, N. Y., July—There is great alarm over the discovery of five cases of small-pox in the densely populated district. People have been going in and out of crowded tenements ignorant of the presence of the disease.

THE TARIFF BILL.

Washington, July 17—Mills said today the House expects to take a final vote on the Tariff Bill on Saturday.

FREMONT PLACED ON THE RETIRED LIST.

Washington, July 17.—The Senate today passed a bill placing John C. Fremont on the retired list of the army as Major-General.

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION.

New Bedford, July 17—Sheridan passed a quiet, comfortable night, propped up by pillows, and conversed pleasantly with the physicians. The doctors agreed that Sheridan is suffering from cirrochosis of the liver.

ENGLISHMEN BUY THE PHONOGRAPH.

New York, July 17—It is stated on Wall street to day that all the right and interest in the Edison phonograph has been sold to an English syndicate for $250,000.

MURDEROUS ANARCHIST PLOT.

Chicago, July 17—A gigantic murderous plot on the part of Chicago anarchists to blow up the Board of Trade building, several other large buildings and murder Judge Grinnell, Judge Garrick, Inspector Bonfield and other prominent persons engaged in prosecuting during the celebrated trial of anarchists, was nipped in the bud by Inspector Bonfield, Chief Hubbard, Lieutenant Elliott and Central detectives to-day. The means to be used in the wholesale murder and destruction of property was the anarchist's weapon. Dynamite and enough of explosives were discovered to-day to blow up half of the city. Three conspirators are already under arrest and confined in the City Hall. Everybody supposed the revolutionary spirit among the anarchists had died out, but it seems the conspiracy has been brewing among the friends of Spies, Parsons and the rest, and the diabolical plot hatched and hundreds of lives were to be taken.

GOVERNMENT INCAPACITY.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—The Government are to blame for the state of affairs at Hazelton. In sending specials they did not select men who were used to dealing with the Indians of the interior, but selected men with little or no experience. The man who fired the shot which killed the Indian is said to be a native of Missouri. When they entered the house in which the Indian was staying they showed their ignorance by neglecting to place a guard at the door, and when the Indian made a bolt for liberty they fired at his body. The Indian friends of the dead man assert that he was turning around to surrender when the fatal shot was fired. The man was at the place where he was killed for some days before the shooting and it is generally believed that any man with experience could have induced the natives to surrender him. Mr. Anderson captured and brought down two Indians some time ago, meeting with no resistance, and it is patent that the numerous Indians at the place could have murdered the whole party where they stood if they felt inclined to do so on the morning when Kit-ma-cool Jim was shot. The natives of Skeena river are still in an uncivilized state, and the cause of the trouble originated in the murder of an Indian doctor. The murderer repaid the Indian's friends with blankets, which is the mode adopted by them of offering reparation. It is said he spent $1900 in purchasing blankets to appease the doctor's relatives. This did not, of course, satisfy the authorities, and five special constables were detailed to proceed to Hazelton, amongst hundreds of Indians with the results which might have been foreseen. The end of the drama will be anxiously looked for by the patient public. PIONEER.

ANOTHER RICH STRIKE.

The Cariboo Mine on Rock Creek—Rich Sulphates Lead.

A. McKinney has just arrived in Spokane Falls from the Kootenay country, British Columbia, and is staying at the Windsor, where a Review reporter yesterday interviewed him relative to the future mineral development of the district whence he came. He is general manager of the Cariboo mine, which is located at the head of Rock creek, and about four miles from the International boundary line. The claim is being developed by Spokane capitalists, and they are naturally pleased over a rich strike. Last week a three foot ledge of gold sulphates was encountered. Mr. McKinney brought a two hundred pound specimen to Spokane and the gold can be seen in the rock with the naked eye. The specimen is now on exhibition in the office of the company below the First National Bank and experts who have examined it pronounce it exceedingly fine. "It runs up and down just like the paper on the wall," said Mr. McKinney in describing the ledge to the reporters. The ledge had been struck at the end of a three hundred foot tunnel. The assay run from one hundred dollars up into the thousands. Mr. McKinney says that if the Cariboo is not a rich paying mine he has never seen one.

PITY THE SORROWS

Of the Poor Old Standard Whom Misfortune Has Brought So Low.

The Standard takes the trouble to contradict the item copied from the Kamloops Sentinel which stated that Messrs. Dunsmuir, DeCosmos and one or two others had purchased the Standard newspaper, with the view of giving it a new existence on the 1st of August next. Our contemporary should have stated the whole truth when it was referring to the subject. Rumors, authenticated by such excellent authority as the reputed editor of the Standard, have been current for several months that our aged and moribund contemporary was to be purchased by a joint stock company, in which Mr. C. McK. Smith, the present proprietor, would be the largest stockholder, and that it would be changed into an evening paper and become a supporter of the Government. The stipulation that the Standard, an opposition journal, would receive Government pap—which has already been agreed to by both parties to the bargain—was in consideration of its abandoning the morning field and its subsequent continuance, probably under a new name, as an evening paper. In other words the Standard and its editor have sold themselves, body, bones and breeches, to the party which for nearly twenty years it has been vigorously opposing. It is another instance of a drowning man catching at a straw, in the vain hope that the fragile support will keep his head above water a moment or two longer. But the "company" which, it was fondly hoped, would breathe the breath of life into the nostrils of the interesting mummy, and put a few gold coins in its pockets to enable the re-animated ghost to strut a while longer on the stage, has not taken the shape that brought joy to the promoters were fondly expecting that it would, and the resuscitated corpse will be compelled to walk the earth during the remainder of its days with one rotten crutch labeled "government patronage." The respectable promoters of the original scheme have wisely withdrawn from the enterprise, as they could receive no assurance that the paper would have the slightest hope of success or be conducted in the manner they desired it should be. The company is now Mr. C. McK. Smith, a few unfortunate employees, Mr. Dunsmuir and indirectly the B. C. Government. The new paper—if it does not collapse forever in the meantime—will make its appearance, it is reported in about a week.

The Standard has already been paving the way for its conversion, and is copied approvingly by the Colonist of this morning. The future will have a story to tell about these two political bed-fellows which will be of great interest to the public. In the meantime we have published enough to give the Standard an excuse for making a more explicit statement of its intentions. Is it to be bought for thirty pieces of silver? Is it to become an advocate of the men it has opposed for so many years? are questions that a majority of the people of Victoria would be pleased to have answered before they are invited to give further encouragement to the concern.

There is a probability that the competition in newspapers in Victoria during the coming year will be keener than ever it was known to be before, in the event of the above arrangements being carried out. The field vacated by the Standard will be filled before six months go round by a live and aggressive and independent morning newspaper, for which there will then be an excellent opportunity. Two morning papers will succeed better than two evening papers, and in either case it will be a question of the survival of the fittest.

Contagious Diseases.

Scarlet fever, a contagious disease producing a large annual mortality, is produced by a specific poison which emanates from the person of the patient, and can be caused by no other means, and this poison is remarkable for the tenacity with which it affixes itself to objects, which, if portable, may convey it long distances, and for its tenacity of life, which renders it difficult to destroy. Diphtheria, also a contagious disease, and largely fatal, may also arise from other causes than contagion, notably from fermenting filth, and requires, not only isolation, but cleanliness for its extinction. Typhoid fever and Asiatic cholera, while not directly communicable from person to person, are spread by the dejecta of their victims, which contaminate the water supply, and thus an efficient disinfection of these dejecta is a very desirable thing to accomplish. Smallpox may be exterminated by vaccination, and this, I am happy to concede, is a fact on which the public requires less information than most others, albeit there are skeptics here. It is evident if the public knew how diseases arise and are disseminated, it would be prepared to more heartily and effectually second the endeavor of sanitarians to limit and subdue them. In proportion to its knowledge of sanitation would its zeal increase.—G. A. Collamore, M. D.

INSIPID TWADDLE.

It has been very amusing to read the editorials in the Colonist during the past two or three weeks. The writer, with a desire to be severe, has made some weak and many insipid attacks upon its contemporary, and vulgarisms such as "Smart Alicks," "too witty for anything," "irresponsible nobodies" ad libitum have been flung at our heads every morning with wearisome iteration. If the new department of journalism, about to be established in connection with one of the eastern universities, requires a Professor of the Ethics of Mud Slinging, we can recommend the editor of our morning contemporary, who adds to a theoretical knowledge a thoroughly practical experience in the science. If with much abuse a little knowledge were imparted, we would stand the operation without a protest; or if among the bushel of chaff one grain of wheat could be found there would be some reason for its continuance. But there is no knowledge—no wheat. It is all insipid twaddle.

THE CROW EATER.

When the Colonist published the letter from its friend, Mrs. MENZIES, which it assured us had "the ring of truth about it" the statement was made that Mr. GARDNER "was in the same boat" with its friend Mr. MENZIES. It promised us at that time that further inquiry should be made into the matter. Now, although our contemporary had to eat humble pie in a very abject sort of a way on Friday last, surely it will not deprive the public of the benefit of its "further enquiry into the matter." We are waiting with a curiosity bordering on anxiety for the unearthing of some terrible mystery by the Colonist detective. Unless it shall gratify the strong craving he has created in the public appetite for something sensational in connection with this matter it will be hard to escape public condemnation. Moreover it surely will not be content to rest under the imputation contained in Mr. STARR's letter of having lied with the malicious intention of injuring one against whom without any reason it had conceived a hatred. The Colonist must not forget that it never had a good reputation. People who have known it for twenty years aver that it has abused and slandered individuals one day and licked their boots the next during all that time. Is the new management worse than the old?

NIGHT OWL PILGRIMAGE.

THE TIMES has waited patiently to see what explanation would be made of Mr. THEO. DAVIE's night-owl pilgrimage in the direction of Rowland's the night before the Victoria District election. Was the pure and immaculate THEODORE out for the benefit of his health? Was this wise, sagacious and conscientious statesman consulting the peasantry concerning matters affecting their interests and desires, while the rest of the world slumbered? Was his country's cause so much at heart that sleep came not to his eyelids because of much thinking about the bad roads and the increased taxes the people had to pay? It must be known. The statesman who would get up out of his bed at midnight and drive into the bleak country to talk with the farmers about roads and bridges deserves an ice monument to his memory. As there are few men with such patriotic motives, Mr. Theo. Davie is, we think, entitled to the monument and to all the notice in this connection he is receiving. Of course, we have assumed that the honorable gentleman's mission was a perfectly honorable and patriotic one, though in this we may be mistaken. To set the matter at rest and prove to the world that his intentions were good, it would probably be well for Mr. Davie or the organ to make an explanation.

THE OLD, OLD STORY.

A small but enterprising journal, called Truth, has recently been started at Donald. It has taken it only two or three weeks to find out that the British Columbia government is thoroughly incompetent, and that on the principle of "like master like servant," the officials of the incapable head are indifferent to the wishes and requirements of the public. It says: It is most important that the people of British Columbia should be assisted as much as possible by the agents of the local government in their efforts to secure, develop and hold the business that is carried on within the province. There is a large mining field being developed at Toad mountain, but through the mismanagement of the government officials many of the benefits that should be reaped by our people will be garnered by citizens of the United States. Matters pertaining to transportation especially, if reports are true, have been badly mismanaged. The charges for packing ore across two government ferries being twice that asked by the railroad company for carrying it from Revelstoke to Vancouver. It is also said that the trail between Sproat's landing and the mines has been badly located and ends nowhere. These two things alone will so handicap the northern transportation line, that it is feared but little of the ore will be shipped by the way of Revelstoke this year. On the other hand, the Americans now at Salisbury condemn the officials for not having the townsite platted, so as to enable intending settlers to acquire title and make improvements. As yet there are no mail facilities to the district, all mail matter being brought in from Bonners' ferry by Captain Hendryx of the Galena merely as an accomodation. It is to be hoped that a little more intelligent energy and push will be displayed by the government in providing the ways and means of aiding her own citizens in developing an industry just beginning to come to the front.

TRADE RESTRICTIONS.

Some time ago our Vancouver contemporary asserted that the free admission of Canadian fish into the United States would not be of any benefit to the British Columbia fisheries, and upon this trade fallacy built up an argument in favor of trade restrictions between the two countries. The Toronto Mail, in a well-written article in reply, discussed the relations of British Columbia and shows her natural market is in the United States, and particularly the west coast states. International trade, says our Toronto contemporary, is very little affected by mere similarity of production, the main factor being cost of production. Take for instance, the case of British Columbia fish. The waters of that province swarm with cod, halibut, and other deep sea fish, together with salmon and seal. That the cost of extraction, to use the economist's phrase, is very low is shown in three ways. First of all, according to a valuable paper prepared by Mr. A. C. ANDERSON, the "native inhabitants," meaning apparently the Indians, consume annually about five million dollars' worth of fish. Secondly, the returns show that a large export trade in canned fish is done with a country so far away as Britain, which has fisheries of its own and ready access to those of Newfoundland and the Scandinavian countries. Last year this trade amounted in value to $664,000. Lastly, the province exports a considerable quantity of fish to the United States. The export last year was valued at $187,000, consisting principally of canned and pickled salmon, which have to pay a heavy duty, viz., 25 per cent. on the canned and $2 per barrel on the pickled. It is reasonable to suppose, therefore, that if the American market with its enormous powers of consumption were thrown open to the British Columbians, their fisheries would soon undergo a marked development. The cost of extraction, already cheap, would be reduced by the improvement of the fishing vessels and of their apparatus, the fish which are now, so to speak, running to waste could be profitably utilized. The cost of transporting the fish by vessel to San Francisco would not be great, particularly since undes free trade return cargoes could be had. The competition of Oregon and Washington Territory would doubtless be felt, but if half what is told of the resources of British Columbia be true she need not fear them any more than Nova Scotia needs to fear Maine and Massachusetts under equal conditions. The contention of the Vancouver paper, that the natural market for British Columbia fish is not in the United States but in the Canadian Northwest, has nothing to recommend it except perhaps its extreme novelty. Our contemporary forgets that its own theory can be used against it here; for no part of the American continent remote from the seaboard is so rich in fish as Manitoba and the Territories. At best, if everybody ate British Columbia fish, and let the local supply go untouched, there would not be over 150,000 customers for the trade; whereas under unrestricted reciprocity the British Columbians would be able to sell to fifty times that number without going very far afield.

British Columbia also produces coal, cattle and lumber. Last year she sent $1,800,000 worth of bituminous coal to the States, the duty being 75 cents per ton. Of animals and their produce she sent $234,000 worth, the duty being 20 per cent. She does not appear to have sent the Americans any lumber, although her Douglas fir and other woods would doubtless command a good price, despite the competition of Oregon and Washington Territory, provided the American duty of 20 per cent. on unmanufactured and sawed lumber and $2 per thousand on boards and deals were abrogated. At any rate the United States is the only profitable market on a large scale for her timber wealth, as well as for her wealth of fish and coal. Even as it is, with the natural flow of trade interrupted by a double row of custom houses, of her entire foreign export trade, amounting last year to $3,478,000, no less than five-eighths of it was done with the States; the value of her exports thither being $2,329,000, or within a fraction of three times as much as her trade with Britain. British Columbia contains a computed area of 350,000 square miles; she is larger than Texas and Washington Territory or California and Oregon combined. Her forests and coal-fields are of vast extent, her fisheries are practically inexhaustible; she produces gold in paying quantities; there is good land, suitable for raising fruit, sheep, and cattle; the climate is a temperate one; there are fine harbors with a large extent of seaboard. Settlements may be said to have commenced in 1858, when gold was discovered on the Upper Fraser. The province was admitted into the Dominion in 1871, and since then large amounts have been spent in opening it up. How is it that a region so well endowed by nature, and for which man has done so much, should after all these years possess no more than fifty or sixty thousand white settlers, whilst Oregon this year boasts of 300,000, and Washington Territory of nearly as many? The answer lies on the surface of things. If Washington and Oregon were severed commercially from the other States, compelled to pay heavy duties on entering their nearest market, and forced to bring the manufactures they require from another and a different market situated three thousand miles away, it is manifest that the energies of their inhabitants would be crippled and colonization seriously discouraged.

The Conservative convention nominated Sir Adam G. Archibald on Saturday to contest Colchester, N. S., for the vacancy in the Commons caused by McLellan's appointment as governor of Nova Scotia.

According to Nicholas Flood Davin—who delights to regard himself as like unto Pericles of old, although old Peri was a boodler—Sir John resembles Lord Dufferin, Charles Fox, Napoleon, Queen Elizabeth and Edward the Confessor. This would make a remarkable composite sort of a man if we did not reflect that all mankind are alike in one respect. They all eat.

The local government of San Francisco needs reforming, says the Examiner. Corrupt men, and men of battered reputation, should be driven from the bench; rascals should be ejected from the Board of Supervisors and honest men put in their places; the schools should be kept free from even the suspicion of political management; the District Attorney's office should be filled by an enemy of lawbreakers of every degree—by a man of such caliber that no boss can run him, and of an integrity beyond the reach of any bribe. The city, in short, needs a sort of government which it has never yet had; and is not likely to get until its citizens develop capacity to create it.

Says a London dispatch: Many London pulpits were yesterday Americanized. Bishop Potter preached at the Chapel Royal, Savoy, in the very private dominion of the Queen, before a fashionable congregation and in in an edifice many hundreds of years old. Bishop Coxe officiated in a still older church, Westminster Abbey. St. Paul's Cathedral gave ecclesiastical hospitality to the Bishop of North Carolina. Surrounded by a grand army of clericals the Bishops of Springfield and Milwaukee, respectively in the morning and evening, pleased the West End congregation of St. Matthias in the Earls Court district. The Bishop of North Dakota grew eloquent in the Church of St. Stephen's South Kensington, not far from the great museum, and the Bishop of South Dakota occupied the pulpit of the Church of St. Pancras, which all tourists will remember as the grand representative of church architecture flanking the attractive entrance to the Liverpool railway station. The Bishop of Mississippi went southwesterly to the Church of St. Gabriel, situated between the former residence of Carlyle and the romantic territory of Pimblico. The Bishop of Iowa conducted two services in extreme East London, in St. Margaret's-on-Lea and St. Peter's in Brockley. The Bishop of Oregon assisted at the services in St. Paul's in Great Portland street. His brother bishop from Washington Territory was welcomed not far away in St. Philip's Church, Regent street, near the famous Oxford-circus.

In the afternoon the Bishop of Quebec took charge of the parish of St. Luke's known one hundred years ago as St. Luke's-in-the-Fields, in Chelsea. The Bishop of Toronto was heard at the parish church of Stepeney, near the great collection of docks.

A prelate from Zululand was at St. Paul's Cathedral in the evening. One from Caffraria filled the pulpit of St. Martin's Church, Trafalgar Square, another from Honolulu that of St. John's, near the great cricket ground, Kensington, and fourteen other home or colonial bishops officiated at as many other parishes. Thus the sixth Sunday after Trinity may be said to have been as extensive a day for bishops as ever was known anywhere in the civilized world.

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous. *

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a cure for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength to the body, and produces a more permanent result than any medicine I ever used. —E. Haines, North Lindale, Ohio.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. —W. F. Fowler, M.D., Greenville, Tenn.

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried various remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured. —M. C. Amesbury, Rockport, Mo.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, without relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured. —Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany St., Boston, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach. —Millie Jane Peirce, S. Bradford, Mass. tt

THE HON. RINGBONE BIVINS

Begins a Lecture Before the Limekiln Club.

When the meeting opened Brother Gardner announced that the Hon. Ringbone Bivins, of Kankakee, had arrived in Detroit for the purpose of lecturing before the Limekiln club. The subject of his lecture was: "Has de World Advanced Fur 'Nuff?" He had been before the committee on inquiry, and had answered all questions, and he would now be brought in and given every opportunity to acquit himself with honor. It was a subject of deep interest to every member of the club, and it was hoped that each and every one would pay the closest attention to the stranger's remarks.

The committee on reception and abduction escorted the Hon. Bivins into the hall amidst profound silence. He was a stately looking man of middle age, having a cast in one eye and some trouble in one of his knees. He bowed right and left with the grace and suavity of an emperor, and upon ascending the platform gently observed:

"My frens, I do not come befo' you as an impostor nor yet as an adjudicator. I come heah bekase I feel dat I know mo' dan you do, an' dat it ar' my dooty to divide my knowledge wid you. I hev often heard dis club spoken of, an' allus in terms of de highest disrespect. I am highly pleased to stand face to face wid sich an ignoble audience, an' if any of you desire to meet me arter dis lectur' is over an' invest twenty-five cents in a box of de celebrated Bivins co'n an' bunyon salve I assure you you will nebber hev cause to regret it."

"Misser president!" called the Rev. Penstock, as he suddenly shot up, "has dis gem'lan arrove heah to deliber a lectur' or to peddle a nostrum?"

"Dat's what I should like to hev him answer," replied the president.

"I hev bin on de platform twenty-two long y'ars," said the Hon. Ringbone, as he looked around the hall, "an' dis ar' de fust time I was eber insulted. I shall refuse to proceed until dis club has rendered an apology."

"If you has a lectur' you kin go on wid it," said Brother Gardner, "but if you cum heah to advertise a co'n cure de sooner you retire to de alley de better it will be fur us all."

"If ar' perfectly plain to me," said the orator, with a peek or so of sarcasm in his voice, "dat any lectur' I could deliber befo' dis club would be frown away I darfo' withdraw. I wish you all good night."

"I want to warn de gineral public right heah an' now," said the president, after Bivins had retired, "dat dis club-ar' no sheepfold fur co'n doctahs. Do nex' puss sen who works his way in heah an' tries dat game on us will be made heart sick fur de balance of de winter. Will Brudder Givedam Jones see dat de gem'lan finds de alley stairs all right?"

Brother Jones had already slipped out and with this purpose in view. He was gone ten minutes. When he returned his necktie was gone and his coat torn down the back. The Hon. Ringbone had evidently resisted, but the keeper of the b'ar traps measured the dent in the frozen ground in the alley and said it was just the size of a pork barrel and ten inches deep. The lecturer's suspender buttons must have been driven higher than his ears.—Detroit Free Press.

The "Lotely Maid."

The German who was driven from the Quisisana hotel by the coarse table manners of the British and their habit of putting their knives in their mouths, during one of his first strolls in Capri saw a beautiful girl in the old costume of the island bending over the edge of a frightful precipice. Hurriedly advancing, the kind man, in his not German-Italian, besought her to leave the dangerous spot. But the girl would not stir, only sadly shook her head. "Lotely maid!" cried the German, "why do you despair. Are there no men more in the world that you, so charming, so handsome, should weary of life? For yes! I know your purpose; you seek to die!" Trembling with emotion, the girl turned her head aside. "Come," urged the German, "don't, pray don't do it." At this the girl turned her streaming eyes full upon him, and, starting up suddenly, answered: "The signore is right; I will not do it." The German went away rejoicing; he had saved the poor creature's life. But the next day, chancing to pass the spot, he was thunderstruck by again finding the same girl in the same attitude. He was about to seize her arm, when a loud voice behind him said: "Please, sir, keep on one side; I can't see my model!" There was an artist at his easel behind a big rock. The German walked on.—English Illustrated Magazine.

Fate of an Indian Doctor.

The Hot Creek Indians have a summary way of tresting their physicians when they fail to cure their patients. The relatives of the deceased are justified in killing him. A case of the kind occurred recently. Miss Madge related how the woman that washed for them lost her husband, and before he died he told his wife that he could not rest in peace unless she killed the doctor, an old squaw who had practiced among them many years. The considerate wife left his bedside just at dawn, and, stealing into the wigwam of the doomed woman, dropped a slip noose round her neck and jerked it quickly tight, so that it was impossible for her victim to utter a sound louder than a horrible gurgle.

The wife afterward described the whole ghastly circumstance with a fidelity that proved her keen enjoyment of the agony of the wretched squaw. She explained in vivid pantomime just how she continued to tighten the noose by a peculiar twitching motion, while she dragged the writhing creature round and round the room. When she had at last ceased to struggle, the wife returned to her appeased lord, who breathed his last with a tranquilizing sense that he had brought about a noble vindication of his death.—Ninetta Eames in Overland Monthly.

Nature of Infectious Diseases.

This discovery of the parasitic nature of infectious diseases is of more than scientific interest; it is of vast practical value. It has not yet, perhaps, contributed very materially to the methods of treating disease directly, although we may confidently expect great results in the future along this line. There is nothing to prevent direct experiments with germicides upon living bacteria in the laboratory, and we may hope in this way to get a more scientific method of curing infectious diseases, after the theory of their parasitic nature becomes more truly the property of doctors as well as scientists. Thus far, however, the value of the theory has been rather as the foundation of the science of preventive medicine. Here its importance cannot be overrated, and is only beginning to become realized. —H. W. Conn in Science.

TO THE INCREDULOUS.

There was Never the Man Who was Fooled or Humbugged—He Humbugs Himself.

The human race affords in itself a most singular study. There are among the many class of thinkers, those who repose too much confidence in others, too little confidence in themselves, or no confidence in anything. The man who knows it all himself, the man who thinks somebody else knows it all and the man who thinks he knows who knows it all. The egotist, the simpleton and the skeptic. Recognizing the fact that people require more substantial evidence than mere words and promises, Drs. Darrin resort to the most legitimate method of advertising themselves by advertising their cures. That those among the community may be afforded an opportunity of investigating before calling in person upon the doctors, the following testimonials are published bearing evidence of the doctors' ability and skill as well as success.

DEAFNESS CURED IN TEN MINUTES.

Mr. Editor—Dear Sir: I reside in North Yakima, W. T. I consulted Drs. Darrin for deafness. My left ear was totally deaf. With one operation with Drs. Darrin's electro-magnetic cure, of ten minutes, I was made to hear as well as ever in my life. Can be referred to as to the truth of my statement.

C. V. FOWLER.

AN OPEN LETTER.

SEATTLE, W. T.

DRS. DARRIN—Gentlemen: I now take the pleasure of writing you that after a full course of your electro-magnetic treatment I am entirely cured of a pain in my chest which has troubled me for over eight years. Having been under treatment by doctors of Liverpool, Glasgow, Calcutta and San Francisco, none of them did me any good until I came under your treatment, which I am sure has permanently cured me, for which, gentlemen, I beg to remain,

Yours gratefully,
WILLIAM LITTLE.

ASTHMA AND OPIUM HABIT CURED.

MR EDITOR—Dear Sir: I have been troubled with asthma for the past thirteen months, so bad as not to be able to do a day's work, and have suffered "torments of the damned." The paroxysms were so severe that my life was many thought to be despaired of. I had tried everything, and a great many physicians. In order to get relief I had to resort to morphine, until I had contracted the habit. I put myself under their electro-magnetic treatment. Now, after several treatments, I am entirely cured of my asthma and the morphine habit, and I have no craving for the drug. I can be referred to at the McKenzie House, foot of Marion street, Seattle, W. T.

H. A. JOHNSON.

CURE OF CATARRH AND VARICOSE VEINS.

TO THE PUBLIC: For ten years I have been troubled with a very disagreeable catarrh and bronchitis. I finally got so bad that I had to give up my business of ranching and riding for my stock. The catarrh extended to my lungs and stomach. My physicians gave me up as incurable. Last October I came to Drs. Darrin, and now, after three months' treatment, I consider myself so far restored as to be able to do all my own work. Before treatment I had to give up horseback riding, and could not attend to my stock at all; now I can remain in the saddle all day without fatigue. My wife had also been troubled with dropsy, milk leg and varicose veins, so she could only walk with the greatest inconvenience, and it was painful to the touch, and finally broke out in a running sore. Drs. Darring sent her medicines, and to our glad joy, she is entirely cured.

Refer to me at Sprague, W. T.

FREDERICK MOHS.

The above gentleman, Mr. Mohs, owns a farm of 2700 acres and hundreds of cattle and horses, and these statements coming from a man of undoubted integrity, and whose reputation for veracity is above suspicion; must be admitted as positively true.

SCIATIC RHEUMATISM CURED.

MR. EDITOR—Dear Sir: For nearly a year I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism, and was so bad as to be unable to sit upon a chair or to get around, and suffered tortures indescribable. I came to the Drs. Darrin, Seattle, W. T., and went under their electro-magnetic treatment and home treatment. I now consider myself entirely cured. Can be referred to at Port Blakely, W. T.

S. F. HOSKINSON.

DEAFNESS AND DISCHARGING EARS CURED

TO THE PUBLIC: I have been troubled with deafness and a discharge of one ear for over twenty years, and have tried everything. I placed myself under the Drs. Darrin's electro-magnetic treatment and I am now cured of my long standing trouble. I cheerfully recommend the doctors to afflicted humanity. Can be referred to at Stuck Junction, W. T.

JOHN WOLFFIN.

OVERFLOWING TEARS CHECKED.

TO THE PUBLIC: For a number of years I have been troubled with overflowing of tears down my cheeks, and have been operated on a number of times by a physician without success. Called on the Drs. Darrin at the International Hotel, Cherry street, and they operated upon my eye, and I now feel great relief for the first time in fourteen years. I can be referred to at 1351 Railroad street, Tacoma, W. T.

MRS. A. J. QUENYAL.

A CERTIFIED CURE.

This is to certify that I have been troubled with weak eyes for over a year past, and with a constant pain over the eye and ball, and was almost blind at times. I went to Drs. Darrin and put myself under their electro-magnetic treatment, with the happiest results, as I consider myself cured. I can be gladly referred to at White River, W. T.

JOHN MULLEN.

OFFICE HOURS AND PLACE OF BUSINESS.

The Drs. Darrin are located at the International Hotel, Cherry street, Seattle, W. T. Consultation free.

Office hours, from 10 to 4 daily; evenings, 7 to 8; Sundays 10 to 12. All curable chronic diseases, blood taints, taints, stricture, catarrh and deafness are confidentially and successfully treated. Circulars sent free. Most cases can receive home treatment after a visit to the doctors' office.

(The Drs. Darrin also have a branch office at 235 Fifth street, Portland, Or., where any in that vicinity can consult them.)

HIGHEST IN THE WORLD.

The Great Falls of Grand River—2000 Feet High.

St. John's N. F., June 28—Last year two young Englishmen named Holme and Duff, the latter a fellow of All Souls' college, Oxford, visited Labrador and spent some months in exploring the interior, taking as their starting point the head of Hamilton Inlet. Mr. Holme embodied the results of their observations in a paper which was read before the Royal Geographical society, and which has been published in the monthly record of their proceedings.

The travelers spent most of the month of August in exploring the various rivers which fall into the head of the Inlet, as far as they are navigable; also the shores of Goose Bay, Rabbit Island and Muddy Lake. During this time the temperature by day ranged from 70 to 80 degrees, while the average minimum at night was 38½ Fah. At the close of August Mr. Duff was obliged to return to England, but Mr. Holme remained, being anxious to make an exploration of the Grand river, which is by far the largest river flowing into the Inlet. He wished to reach, if possible, the Grand Falls of this river, some 150 or 200 miles from the mouth, of which there were such glowing accounts, but almost nothing of a reliable nature known.

Leaving Northwest river—a station of the Hudson's Bay company—with a small boat and two boatmen, on August 22nd, he reached the first falls, 70 feet in height, on the 25th, and after that had a long and difficult struggle with rapid water up to Lake Waminikapou. On the 29th Gull Island Rapid was reached, the fiercest though not the longest of the rapids on this river. Horseshoe and Ninipi Rapids were passed after a hard struggle, and on September 9th Lake Waminikapou was reached. After rowing up the lake for twenty miles, a heavy gale was encountered, which detained them for two days, and provisions getting low, and no game being found, Mr. Holme was compelled to turn back when only fifty miles from the famous falls.

He says the height of the Grand Falls is not known, but there is little doubt that they are, in certain respects, the most stupendous falls in the world. Assuming the elevation of the tableland on the east to approximate to that on the south, then in the thirty miles beginning at the Grand Falls and ending with Lake Waminikapau, there is a drop of 2,000 feet. Some of this drop is probably effected by the rapids immediately below the falls, but the greater part is no doubt made by the fall itself. The river is said by Maclean to be 500 yards broad above the falls, contracting to fifty yards at the falls themselves. It, therefore, seems probable that there is no other fall in the world of such volume of water, so high, or of so great height with such a volume of water." A fall of 2,000 feet is almost inconceivable, and it may well be doubted whether Mr. Holme's estimate is not much too great. Still it is evident that the height must be very great and the appearance of the falls remarkable. Only two white men have ever seen them—Maclean and Kennedy, officers of the Hudson Bay Company. The Labrador Indians believe that the Grand Falls are haunted, and that no one can look upon them and live, so that they are careful to avoid them.

Mr. Holme's exploration terminated with his return to the Northwest river. He says that while the sea coast of Labrador is bleak and barren—a very "abomination of desolation"—at a distance of not more than twelve miles from the coast there commences a luxuriant forest growth, which clothes the whole of the country, with the exception of a few patches, chiefly toward the north, called 'barrens.' These 'barrens' are what we should call 'moors,' and are the homes of vast numbers of caribou. The climate, a few miles inland, is totally different from that on the coast. A journey of twenty or thirty miles in summer time, up the country from the sea, is like passing from winter to summer."

THE LEGAL PROFESSION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—To designate the courses which have led to the unfortunate condition of the Bar of our province would be invidious, but again to draw attention to an obvious and simple method of amelioration appears unobjectionable. Let every British lawyer, upon presenting his diplomas, and a proper certificate that he is in good standing, be entitled to immediate admission to practise, and a marked improvement in the tone of the profession will very soon be observable. In advocating this course I am not singular, as the Attorney-General, than whom no practitioner has the honor of the profession more at heart, has for some time past approved of a change in the direction indicated.

—A worm has appeared in Georgia which cuts off pigs' tails. It works quietly, worms its way into the animal's confidence, as it were, and in a few days the pigtail falls of. If it works in the the same manner on a Chinaman's tail it would be a blessing to introduce it into British Columbia.

—Whether from swampy land or stagnant pool, or from the deadly gases of city sewers, malarial poisons are the same. Ayer's Ague Cure, taken according to directions, is a warranted specific for malarial disorders. *

Gardner's New York Cases.

The cases against E. A. Gardner, for smuggling, in New York, which were commenced last spring, have been postponed until fall. Mr. Gardner has gone east, but his attorney, Col. Haines, will not go, if at all, until some time in September.

Marriage.

An interesting ceremony will take place at the Reformed Episcopal church at 11:30 o'clock to-morrow morning. The happy couple are well known in this city and are both residents of James Bay ward. The TIMES extends congratulations in advance.

Victim of Morphine.

Dr. Wright, formerly proprietor of the Seattle Pharmacy, died very suddenly in that city on Saturday evening. He underwent a surgical operation some time ago and became a victim to the morphine habit, of which narcotic he took a large dose a short time before his death. Deceased was a Mason in good standing and was also a member of the A. O. U. W. He leaves two small children.

Warm Weather.

To-day was one of the warmest of the season thus far. On the cool side of Frank Campbell's corner and in the shade, at 2 p. m., the thermometer registered 78°. In the sun it was 95°, although it felt like 195°. In the sun-scorched, oven-baked, furnace-heated east the thermometer in the shade is about the same as in Victoria in the sun. We invite the salamanders to come west.

Clerks on Parade.

The Clerks' Protective Association, Seattle, is making an effort to induce all merchants to close at 8 o'clock. They marched 150 strong through the streets, headed by a band of music. The members carried banners with the inscriptions, "We are not slaves but men;" "What we demand is just;" "We don't want the earth;" "Early closing is our motto. Do your shopping before 8 p.m." "Don't patronize stores that keep open after 8 p. m."

A Squeeze of Lemon.

There is no better drink in hot weather than a glass of water with a squeeze of lemon in it. Some like their lemon tinctured with "cordials" of a more or less potent kind. But a plain squeeze in plain cold water, without addition of syrup, sugar or spirits, is a growing favorite beverage. Taken first thing in the morning it is an all day cooler; the last thing at night, it helps sleep. Any way it is taken, it is an excellent resolvent and tonic. The quantities of the fruit now used is enormous and constantly increasing.

A Correspondent's Opinion.

A Port Townsend correspondent says that the public will be startled by another opium sensation before a great while. The small craft plying between Victoria and the port of entry have greatly increased and everyone knows what that means. The principal sloop engaged in the business is being pretty closely watched, however, and she will be "cinched" one of these days. The correspondent thinks if the government would only place a man to watch the factories in this city, the capture of the contraband drug would be more frequent.

A Captain Lost.

On the 15th of June, when in about 59 deg. north, Capt. Rayor, of the sealing schooner Annie Algar, in company with two of his men, went out hunting and have never been seen or heard of since. The schooner beat around for a week, but found no trace of the boat or men. She returned to Seattle last week with 375 skins. On the 14th June the Algar spoke the schooner Triumph, Capt. Dan McLean, who had 565 skins at that time. The Algar's skins have been purchased by Mr. Morris Moss, of this city.

Railway Arbitration.

The Vancouver News says: In the C. P.R. arbitration commission a number of officers and employees of the Company were examined. It is probable there will be one or two more witnesses examined on behalf of the Company, which will conclude its case and the commission will adjourn till Tuesday, 24th instant, when the case for the Government will be opened. In the interval, the gentlemen representing the government will probably make a personal inspection of the section of the railway on which the dispute, which is the subject of the arbitration, has arisen.

Contraband Chinese.

Deputy United States Marshal, Capt. S. H. Winslow, captured 10 alleged contraband Chinamen on the trail, going toward Edison, near the Whatcom county line. While taking them along the road, two of them slipped down a steep bank near Samish, and disappeared. The remaining eight were taken to Seattle. When taken before U. S. Commissioner Emery, the Chinamen claimed that they had been on the Sound for some time, and had gone down to Samish to get work in the cannery, when they were captured. The commissioner could not see it in that light, and issued write of deportation, which means that they will be sent to McNeil's Island for an indefinite period. One of the number, Ah Jake, has been before the commissioner on two previous occasions on a similar charge. Once he was discharged, and the second time he was sent to the penitentiary, served his term, and is again caught at his old tricks.

OUR TOWN MAJOR.

The Skeena Expedition from a Military Point of View.

So our beald soger boys have got off at last. What executive ability, what military promptitude, what unprecedented dispatch? Wonders will never cease. It has consumed nearly six days to provide two months rations for some eighty men, transport for them and their outfit to the scene of disturbance! In numbers the total strength of the expedition force, specials and all, does not exceed that of an ordinary company of an Imperial regiment. They ought to be well commanded, having an officer for every ten men, and a handsome field officer to look after the grub for 75 rank and file! The conducting of any expedition, however small, through an almost unknown country, and that country broken and covered with timber, needs great caution. Decision and promptitude of orders, nothing vacillating, are necessay to success. Before starting, orders countermanded orders; in quarters this means confusion—in the field, disaster! Bushwhacking campaigns are anything but pleasant. The Kaffir war of '52, the Maori war in New Zealand are instances; they all had their disasters to troops—the best in the world—the concealed savage in his native fastness being more than a match for their more civilized opponents. In our own time, a few years ago, Gabriel Dumont, with some 44 half-breeds and Indians, checked the advance of Middleton's column consisting of 1700 men, armed with all the latest modern improvement in weapons, one machine gun and four pieces of ordnance! The head of the column, covered by a cloud of scouts, was attacked without the nicest notification of the presence of the enemy, as it entered a defile from the open prairie between two bluffs of timber. The surprise was complete. Every precaution was taken by Middleton to feel his way, yet he was surprised in a comparatively open country. The question naturally arises, is the force sent yesterday of sufficient strength to enable them to scour the country as they advance? The Indians are numerous, well supplied with arms of precision and trained also in their use. The route boasts of a plentitude of defiles, through which the troops will be compelled to pass. Should the Indians unfortunately take advantage of any of the strategic points given them by nature, we may have enacted at our very threshold a Kyber Pass, on a small scale it is true, but none the less disasterous. A force to be effective must be of a sufficient strength to ensure its advance, especially if the physical features of the country are difficult. A detachment like the one which marched away yesterday, with all the pomp and glory of war, may be cut off in detail, without ever being able to take an advantage should opportunity offer, or strike an effective blow. Prestige is everything with the savage; should we once lose that there is no knowing what the consequences may be. On the other hand if we are to believe the government organ on Government street, the "outbreak is anything but serious," while in this morning's issue it says many precious lives are in "imminent peril." Now, which is it? If the law is to be enforced it should be in a position to insist on its being carried out. Seventy-five men and seven officers are not sufficient to cope with several thousand Indians well armed and secure in the fastness of their almost impenetrable country. The expedition is a forlorn hope if serious, and those who should know are simply leading a handful of brave fellows into a rat-trap to be killed at the will of an unrelenting savage foe. Imbecility seized the Provincial Executive from the first. Where is the law adviser of the Crown, or who is he, that he could not inform the government that it only required the signatures of three J. P.'s, and they are plentiful enough, to call out the militia. "Big Spud" the fool of the regiment, could have told them that without asking of Ottawa. Their apologist says, "there has been promptitude in sending off the expedition." If unnecessary delay is promptitude then they are entitled to the prize. There is one thing, however, Major Peters, and a good many of the officers, non-commissioned officers, and men under his command, have had their baptism of fire and experience of bushwhacking in the Northwest. The gallant Major has proven his coolness and courage in presence of the enemy; both qualifications will be essential service in the campaign just entered on, of which few know the end. Like a good many more Indian scares, the whole thing may end in a fizzle, and our brave warriors won't have an opportunity of flashing their maiden swords (?), earning a title, a medal, 320 acres of land and a purse of $20,000! There will be no opportunity of stealing, as in the last campaign, undertaken by the Dominion; and as yet the political vultures, following in the train of "the army" are but few. They are hovering around, however, and are ready to make a clean sweep whenever opportunity offers. The mode adopted for the commissary in a rough country, from a military standpoint, is defective. The present organization, composition, and efficiency of that costly institution, the provincial police force, should be enquired into. It needs reforming in every sense of the word, and shall in due time receive attention from The Major.

When will the post office master tailor have the clothes ready for our gentlemen letter carriers? Or are they too proud to wear a uniform? The thing uniform is becoming so common that there's no knowing. Mayhap our letter carriers don't know what effect a P. O. uniform has on the feelings of "Sairey" way down the back yard. There are a lot of uniforms away from town just now and likely to be away for some time, so that if the letter carriers secure them at once they'll have the whole field to themselves, for a while anyway. Hurry up and get your fixings on.

Subjects for meditation by the members of the City Council before next meeting:

The Sewers!
The Water!
The Streets!
The Sidewalks!
The Park!
The Sabbath Observance!
The Dens of Iniquity within your gates!
The "Ex-Councillor"!
The Ees Licence!
The "Colonist"!

And too advice of

THE TOWN MAJOR.

Insulting the Flag.

During the Chicago convention a party of young Californians were in the Grand Pacific, and their flag handkerchiefs were doing full duty. The American flag was good enough for them. Their actions attracted the attention of a one-armed old soldier from Ohio. Stepping up to the young men, he said rather sternly: "I fought four years for that flag, young men, and I think it's a shame for men claiming to be republicans to blow their dirty noses into it." The shot struck home and the handkerchiefs disappeared and the young men walked quietly up to the bar. The famous order of Gen. Dix, with changes in its phraseology, would be appropriate.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

The Last of Eleven.

Mr. Robert Stevenson, of Chilliwhack, who left this morning for Osoyoos Lake, is now, since the death of Judge Haynes, the last of the first eleven officers who, in the early days, served in that district. Mr. Stevenson was appointed by Sir James Douglas, at Rock Creek, in September, 1860, when British Colombia was a Crown colony. Cox, Collins, Burk, Young, Gibson, McCaffrey, Baker, Low, Haynes—all are dead. Mr. Stevenson was stationed at Osoyoos Lake, with Gibson under him, J. C. Haynes at Similkameen, with McCaffrey under him, and Cox at Rock Creek, with Collins and Burk under him. These were our customs officers on the line in the spring of 1861. Early in that season Mr. Stevenson resigned, and went to Cariboo. Cox was afterwards the gold commissioner in Cariboo, and also in Big Bend. He died very poor in California about ten years ago.

The Alaska Trade.

The discovery of mines in Alaska, the development of fisheries and the advertisement of that northern country abroad has increased the trade between the Sound and Alaska within the past two years says the Tacoma News. In 1872 the entire trade between Oregon and Washington Territory and Alaska was done by the little steamer George S. Wright, which made one trip a month between Portland, Sound ports and Sitka. She was rigged like a steamship, but was little larger than Enith. Now there are three steamships, a steam schooner, and a number of sailing vessels in that trade. The steamship Elder runs from Portland, touching at Seattle and Port Townsend; the steamship Ancon runs from Tacoma to Alaska, making a round trip each month, and the steamship Idaho has just been put on that route as a special boat, running from Sound ports to Alaska. Besides the steam schooner Leo trades regularly between Seattle and Sitka and there are five or six sailing vessels permanently engaged in that trade.

Rough on Editors.

Truth says that the Calgary Herald is having a hard time with its editors. Within a year, the villainous climate of the town knocked out Fred Ewer, and he had to migrate to California; his successor, J. M. Powers, was knocked out by the bad whisky he drank at its many saloons, and had to go back under the protecting wing of Governor Dewdney at Regina; Wesley F. Orr next came up smiling, but he got so many fights on his hands that he resigned in disgust; and the latest, E. J. Chambers, from the Montreal Star, was fairly warm in his seat, when one of the Herald managers roped him out to look at his stock ranch, and on the way back the team ran away, the editor breaking his leg in jumping from the buggy. Still the Herald comes up smiling every afternoon in the week, except Sunday.

How Bella Vista was Abandoned.

Captain Stover, of the Chilean bark Bella Vista, says the San Francisco Call, which was abandoned and sunk twenty miles off Point Reyes on Sunday, arrived yesterday. He states that he left Chemainus, B. C., eleven days ago, with a cargo of 353 pine piles, 90,000 feet of lumber in the hold, 70,000 feet on deck, 130 tons of ballast and about 20 tons of iron. Off the Columbia River a heavy southeast gale was encountered, the ship labored heavily and commenced to leak. The men stuck to the pumps, but the water gained on them, and working hard for seven days and nights it was determined to abandon the vessel, especially as the heavy seas had washed away the deck houses, forecastle, and everything movable on deck. The captain and crew of 13 lost all their effects and were taken to Bowen's Landing by the schooner Naps City.

Marine.

The ship Edward O'Brien was picked up in the Straits by the American tug Tyee, and towed to Burrard Inlet.

The Hudson Bay Co.'s ship Titania is fully due from England, being a fast vessel. She is out about 120 days.

Bel. bark Bundaleer, twenty-nine days from San Pedro, arrived in Royal Roads yesterday, and was towed up last night to Messrs. Croft & Angus' mill, Chemainus, by the tug Pilot, to load lumber.

It is understood that the schooner Bertha Dolbeer will load at Eureka a cargo of redwood lumber for British Columbia for shipment to foreign ports. From British Columbia the Dolbeer will take cargo of pine lumber to Guaymas, loading gypsum afterwards at the San Marcos Islands for San Francisco.

The building of two vessels for the Pacific Coast Steamship Company will make some changes in the running of the other boats. The Eureka will be sent to Alaska and the Los Angeles will be put on the Mendocino route, as a light draught boat is needed there. Both the Corona and Pomona, as the two new boats are called, are 1200 tons, and built of steel. The Coryna is already finished, and Captain Charles Goodall, jr., has gone east to bring her out. The Pomona will be launched soon from the Union Iron Works, San Francisco.

Death.

Jane Fuller, relict of the late James Gowdy, died this morning. Deceased was a native of the Orkney Islands, was aged 74 years and was a pioneer of this Province. For many years the deceased resided on Blanchard street. Mr. Wm. Spence, of this city, was married to Mrs. Gowdy's daughter. The funeral will leave the St. Joseph's Hospital at 4 o'clock to-morrow, Wednesday afternoon.

The Alaska Steamer.

The Geo. W. Elder will arrive to-morrow morning and will sail for Alaska at noon. She will carry a full cargo and all the passengers for whom she has accommodation.

No Social Dance.

An advertisement having appeared stating that a social dance will be held at the Caledonian picnic grounds, the President of the Caledonia Society states that no dance will take place on that evening.

Funeral.

The mortal remains of the late Isabella Blechynden were laid at rest this afternoon. The mournful cortege left the residence of Mrs. Please, North Park street, at 3 o'clock, and proceeded to Ross Bay cemetery.

The Heathen Chinee.

Late last evening a number of Chinamen with two white men were seen on the road to Cedboro Bay. It is said a sloop was in waiting and the party left for Uncle Sam's dominions in the wee sma' hours.

Lacrosse Match.

The Victoria lacrosse team received a challenge to play the Vancouver team on the 28th inst., at Beacon Hill. Two of Victoria's best players left for the Skeena River with C Battery but the home team are confident that they can win and will accept the challenge.

Patronize Home Industry.

Party of Tourists.

There goes north to-morrow as tourists by the steamship G. W. Elder: Mr Geo Buckham, of New York, Mrs Wright and two Misses Wright, of Boston, Mr J W Thompson and Miss Thompson, of Washington, D C, Mrs. Miss and Mr Stevens, of Detroit, Messrs Brown and Rice, of Providence, R I. The forgoing ladies and gentlemen came to the coast by way of the Canadian Pacific Railway. They took in the Banff springs for a day or two on their trip to the west and were pleased with the C P R Hotel and surroundings. They were also charmed by the wild and grand scenery of the Rockies, Selkirks, and canons of the Fraser. During their stay in the city they were shown numerous courtesies by His Worship the Mayor.

On Friday last six of the men employed on the Eau Claire Lumber Company's log drive on the Bow River, near Calgary, were upset from a boat and perished without any chance of succor being extended to them.
